COMMENTARY FROM CARDINAL CUPICH

The following is a Commentary by Cardinal Blase J. Cupich entitled "The Catholic Church 'must remain vigilant' in reporting all abuse" that appeared in the Chicago Tribune on Sunday, September 30, 2018.

It has been a season of sorrow, pain and outrage for victims of sexual abuse and all who believed that the Catholic Church had definitively addressed this terrible scandal.

Revelations about Archbishop Theodore McCarrick, whom Pope Francis removed from ministry in July amid sexual abuse allegations, along with the Pennsylvania grand jury report, which detailed hundreds of sexual abuse cases over 70 years, bring home the fact that we face a watershed moment in the history of the Catholic Church. The culture of self-protection, privilege and power that shielded abusers must be eradicated. It reflects a corrupt sense of entitlement without regard for honesty, accountability or, most important, the safety of young people and adults entrusted to our care.

To begin to heal this wound on the soul of the church, we bishops must commit to facing our own failures — by looking into the faces of the victim-survivors and seeing Christ. The decades of walking away from victim-survivors must come to an end. Walking toward them is the only option — it has always been the only option. My determination to root out this abuse and the corrupt culture that enabled it comes from the experience of sitting face-to-face with victim-survivors, listening to their heart-rending stories and trying to address their profound needs. This is not something that can be accomplished remotely. No, it must be a personal encounter with those who have suffered unimaginably at the hands of those who promised to protect them.

One of my earliest such encounters came while I was serving as bishop of a largely rural diocese. One day, a man from the area shared his horrific story with me. A priest who had been close to the man's family, he explained, began sexually abusing him when he was just 9 years old. The abuse continued for years, and during that period this cleric would drive the boy to another town and — in a truly demonic attempt to blame the child for the horrors he was made to suffer — force him to confess his "sins" to another priest.

I immediately notified local law enforcement, removed him from ministry and petitioned the Vatican to begin the process that would dismiss him from the clerical state, which would happen shortly thereafter. At the victim-survivor's request, I set up a meeting between the abuser and him. The priest did not deny the allegations. After that meeting, I visited the parish where the abuse took place. I explained to the congregation that one of their former priests had sexually abused one of the children of the parish, publicly invited other victims to come forward and removed the photo of the abuser from the church vestibule.

I have been thinking of that victim-survivor as I see the expressions of offense taken by those hurt by what I said in interviews in late August. It was a mistake for me to even mention that the church has a bigger agenda than responding to the charges in the letter by former papal nuncio Archbishop Carlo Maria Vigano. What I should have said, because it has been my conviction throughout my ministry, is that nothing is more important for the church than protecting young people. I apologize for the offense caused by my comments. It pains me deeply to think that my poor choice of words may have added to the suffering of victim-survivors. For they, like that man who trusted me enough to share his story, deserve our admiration for calling us to purge the church of this evil.

And purge it we must. For listening to the victim-survivors before us is necessary but not sufficient to our cause. Such encounters must lead to action — to a change of hearts, to an improvement of policies and to a reform of a culture that brought about this tragedy.

While the Archdiocese of Chicago began decades ago to implement policies to prevent and address sexual abuse, we must remain vigilant. To move forward as a church, we must establish a new standard of accountability and chart a fresh path for reconciliation. To those ends, I commit the archdiocese to the following steps.

- When church leaders, including bishops, fail in their sacred duty to protect those entrusted to their care, we will press for their removal from ministry.
- We will continue our long practice of reporting all abuse, past and present, to civil authorities.
- We have begun reviewing records of members of religious orders who are residing in the archdiocese. We will make necessary changes to our process of review when a religious order notifies us that one of their members has moved into the archdiocese.
- We will continue to listen to those victim-survivors, actively seeking their input as we work to build a model of authentic healing based on the Truth and Reconciliation Commission.
- As we have in the past, we will engage outside independent experts to review our history, records and policies to help us build up a culture of healing and accountability.

This is our true compass: to see the face of Christ in victim-survivors. To keep them front and center in all we do to address this scandal. This is the only way to inform our reforms, to demonstrate that all who come through our doors are safe, protected by a church that reflects, always and everywhere, God's own love for his children.

Cardinal Blase J. Cupich is archbishop of Chicago.

JEANNE MORETTE

Hello. I am Jeanne Morette and I've been a parishioner at Sacred Heart for 32 years. For the past two years, I have been working with the Religious Education Office preparing materials for our wonderful, dedicated catechists and our students.

Over the years I have been involved in many different ministries at the parish and at Sacred Heart School. My children attended the school so I helped with Nite Lites and with many other activities. I was a catechist in the Religious Education Program, and for many years was a facilitator for RCIA.

I have been married to my husband, Bob, for 30 years and we have four children: Cate (26), Tim (24), Michael (22) and Matthew (20). I grew up in Newton, Massachusetts. I graduated from Wellesley College with a BA in Economics in 1978 and received a MBA from Harvard University in 1982. For the next ten years I worked in strategic planning, marketing, sales management and corporate communications, in the healthcare products industry.

DONNA FALZONE

This photo is of my granddaughter, Olivia and me. I am a cradle Catholic and a first born of twin girls; I was never alone! I am the mother of 3 daughters and grandmother of 5 grandsons and Olivia and love being a Gma!

I've lived almost all my life in Highland Park with two years in Winnetka. I established a cottage industry of sewing and upholstery for north shore clients. I'm a parishioner of Immaculate Conception (IC) and was an active volunteer at Sacred Heart (SH) when my girls were students at SH school. Nite Lites was a new fundraiser and I co-chaired it with other SH mothers. I was an IC Parish Council district rep., a catechist and co-Director of Rel. Ed. I was publicity chair and treasurer of IC Women's Guild. I am currently a member of the IC finance council.

Seventeen years ago I said yes when asked to apply for the position of secretary for St. Philip's PREP. I currently continue doing the secretarial duties of PREP, coordinate the altar serving schedule, SP Giving Tree, and help with the SP pancake breakfast, and will substitute when needed and available, for the Tuesday bridge club. I returned to college to continue my education and was inducted into the Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society and received A. A.S. certification in Paralegal Studies. I hope to return to my studies for my B.S. degree. I am Gold Star aunt of 1st Lt. David L. G. killed in Tikrit, Iraq 2005, please pray for him and all VETS. I am grateful for all my new Divine Mercy friends.

PRAYER AND WORSHIP

HOLY HOUR AT ST. PHILIP CHURCH

Join Divine Mercy parishioners for Holy Hour every Friday afternoon at 3:00p.m. at St. Philip Church.

RESPECT LIFE PRAYER

That families will be filled with the graces that flow from marriage and parenthood, and become true sanctuaries of life, we pray to the Lord.

EVERYDAY STEWARDSHIP: A LOOK AT THE SCRIPTURES

"So out of the ground the Lord God formed every beast of the field and every bird of the air, and brought them to the man to see what he would call them; and whatever the man called every living creature, that was its name." (GENESIS 2:19)

The creation story reminds us of two important points. First, since the start, God has put the entire world into our care. Second, stewardship has been around since the beginning of mankind, it isn't something recently invented by the Church. Just as past generations built our Church, it is now our responsibility to continue to nurture and develop these gifts for future generations.

WEEKLY SCRIPTURE REFLECTION GROUP

A scripture reflection group meets every Monday morning. We'll meet at the Sacred Heart offices after the 8:30am Mass for the month of October.

We gather for one hour to read and reflect on the coming Sunday readings. No experience in scripture necessary, and everyone walks away learning something new! All are welcome—it will make your Sunday experience even more worthwhile!

AN INVITATION TO JOIN THE DIVINE MERCY MUSIC MINISTRY

Divine Mercy Parish at Sacred Heart Church is blessed with two different musical ensembles for all age levels that minister each week at the various Masses. Perhaps we have some interested parishioners who are considering a way to offer their time and talent by singing or playing an instrument and worshipping God through the gift of music. New members are always welcome!

The Adult Choir rehearsals are held on Thursday evenings in the lower level music studio of the Parish Center at Sacred Heart. The choir is open to high school age and adult singers. Rehearsals are held on Thursdays at 7:30 p.m. and the choir sings at the 10:30 a.m. Sunday Mass.

The Saturday Contemporary Choir, open to anyone high school age and above, sings at the 5:00 p.m. Mass each week, and rehearses before Mass at 4:15 in the church. The Saturday Choir will return on SEPTEMBER 22nd.

There are also opportunities for our youth to sing at the Sunday 4:30 Family Masses which will be held on five occasions in the next several months. Instrumentalists and singers are encouraged to join us for these celebrations on October 21, November 18, February 3, April 7 and May 19.

For more information, please contact: Todd Gresick, Music Director, at (847) 446-0856 ext. 107,

SACRED HEART SCHOOL

Farm Fun!

Our kindergarten trip to Wagner Farm was a success! It was a great introduction to our farm and agriculture unit. We picked corn off the cob, turned it into grain and fed the chickens with it. We made butter and all left with a pumpkin! The weather was beautiful and we feel fortunate for that. We even had time to play inside with all the fun activities like milking the cow, raising bails of hay, building a silo out of blocks and putting eggs into nests.

LOOK WHAT'S HAPPENING AT SACRED HEART SCHOOL! WE DID IT!

Sacred Heart School named 2018 National Blue Ribbon School!

We are all so excited! It is truly a wonderful achievement that we all can celebrate together. We could not have won this award without our amazing students, their incredible families, our dedicated staff and our remarkable teachers! Sacred Heart School is recognized as "Exemplary High Performing" because our student achievement in English and mathematics is among the highest in the country (top 15%), measured by state assessments or nationally normed tests. At Sacred Heart School our nationally normed test is the ACT Aspire Assessment.

A BIG THANK YOU and CONGRATS to all students, parents, grandparents, teachers, friends and families for all your generous contributions to our Boosterthon fun run. We were able to meet our goal and had loads of fun along the way!
